About Gloria Two-Feathers

Gloria Two-Feathers of Snohomish, this month’s featured teller, will weave a tapestry of first nation and coyote stories. Born into a unique Scottish and Native American heritage, Gloria came from a family of storytellers. She and her 6 siblings were raised on oral history, analogies and jokes that brought to life tales of hunting, canning, and homesteading in South Dakota. It was in Washington that she met Buck Ghost Horse, a Lakota Elder, who instructed her for 20 years in spirituality, ritual, ceremony, and culture – eventually giving Gloria her name. Two-Feathers brings extraordinary sensibility to her stories which ride on her experience that everything is alive.

About First Friday Storynight

Started in 2009 by blossoming storyteller, Brian Rohr and handed over to the care of Aimée Ringle in 2013, this monthly event explores the art and ritual of the oral tradition: sharing the old myths, folk tales, and fairy tales along with more modern stories and personal sharings. Showcased will be local and visiting storytellers, musicians and weavers of magic with words. Each month, there are two to three featured tellers, and space for guests in the audience to share a story or two during the open mic sections.
